Festival rainy, but overpass open

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Although the weather did not cooperate, "Overfest '81" in downtown Granite City, designed to celebrate the opening of the new 19th Street overpass, did have its bright moments.

The brightest moment was the actual opening of the overpass after the soap box derby on the new structure Sunday evening. Approval by the state to open the $6 million structure was announced during the ceremonies which opened the Overfest by Mayor Paul Schuler.

The overpass was to have opened Saturday night, but the opening was delayed when rain and cold winds forced the postponement of the soap box derby until 2 p.m. Sunday. After the race, street crews removed bales of hay which had been placed along the sides of the structure to protect the young racers and the barricades at both ends of the overpass then were opened.

Mayor Schuler promised a short and simple ceremony Friday afternoon to open the Overfest and to, symbolically, at least, open the overpass. A paper chain made by Granite City school children, each link bearing the name of the child who made it, stretched along the overpass between downtown Granite City and West Granite City, symbolizing the linking, at last, of the two sides, which have been divided since the city began by busy railroad tracks.

Officials representing five entities responsible for funding the overpass placed the final links in the chain. Mayor Paul Schuler placed the link for the city. Terry Seabolt, vice-president of Granite City Steel, placed the link representing the financial contribution the steel firm made toward the construction. Senator Sam Vadalabene placed the link representing the state's contribution. Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, represented the county and Dale Park, district secretary for U.S. Congressman Melvin Price, placed the link representing the federal government.

After the paper chain was completed, a double-decker bus, imported from England by Alton Popel Bottling Co., was driven by Morris Miles of that company down the western leg of the overpass and then returned to the top to drive through the chain and open the structure.

The ceremony was in line with the theme for the Overfest, "Bridging the Gap," between West Granite City and the downtown area.

Approximately 250 persons attended the opening ceremony and many then went to the carnival and booths in the downtown area to celebrate the event.

The carnival was scheduled to stay open until 10 p.m. but a heavy rainfall at 8:30 p.m. forced its closing 90 minutes early.

Rain also interfered with the scheduled noon opening of the carnival Saturday, but the rainline did begin about 2 p.m. when there was a break in the weather. Throughout the evening there were periodic showers, but several hundred persons took advantage of the rides and booths Saturday, until an early closing at 8:30 p.m.

Nameoki Road crash kills 20-year-old

Gregory A. Ballew, 20, of 74 Maureen Court, was fatally injured and five other persons were hurt in a two-car accident at Nameoki Road and Garfield Avenue at 12:05 a.m. Sunday.

Danny Caughron, 23, of 2406 Iowa St., the alleged driver of the auto which struck Mr. Ballew's car, the driver's door, has been charged with violating a flashing red light, driving while intoxicated, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an injury accident and two counts of driving with a suspended driver's license.

The fatal accident occurred moments after the car driven by Caughron's was allegedly involved in a hit-and-run accident on Nameoki Road at Johnson Road. Police allege that Caughron was fleeing from that accident when he ran the red light at Nameoki and Garfield and struck Mr. Ballew's car in the side.

In the first accident, Michael Whaley, 23, of 2504 Grand Ave., was injured when his northbound auto, stopped for a red light, was struck from behind, allegedly by the auto driven by Caughron. The impact pushed Whaley's auto through the intersection. The other car then went through the red light at Nameoki and Johnson roads and continued north at a high rate of speed toward Garfield Avenue.

There, it allegedly violated the red light and entered the intersection after Mr. Ballew's westbound auto and the two collided. Mr. Ballew's car was knocked over the median and across both southbound lanes before it came to a stop in the exit lanes of Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Mr. Ballew's legs were pinned under the steering wheel and he was knocked unconscious. A policeman who witnessed the accident called for ambulances and the fire department rescue truck, in addition to more police cars.

By the time an ambulance arrived, Glen A. Simpson, a passenger in Mr. Ballew's car, had gotten out and Mr. Ballew had freed his legs and was sitting on the passenger side of his car with his feet on the ground. Ambulances took two, plus Caughron and three passengers in Caughron's car to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Candidates support two high schools

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

"Would you support consolidating the two Granite City high schools into one building?" That is the question most frequently asked of candidates for the Granite City Board of Education these days.

During last week's candidate night at the Granite City Democratic Club meeting in the Knights of Columbus Hall, seven of the nine candidates for the board of education were asked that question.

Each worded the answer differently, but carefully, and most said they would prefer not to consolidate North and South high schools, but would vote to do so, if declining enrollments and financial shortages make it necessary.

Seven of the nine candidates for three Granite City Board of Education seats to be filled in Nov. 3 balloting were on hand for the club's meeting. The other two Granite City candidates, Julie Gates and incumbent L. Monroe Worthen were unable to attend.

Despite the importance of issues to be decided by the next school board, including possible school closings and declining income, the audience was small for the candidate night. About 30 club members attended, far fewer than attend the candidate nights for city and county candidates.

Club President Paul Fisk asked member Jack Hood to conduct the candidate talks and Hood gave each candidate five minutes to discuss his candidacy and allowed each five minutes for questions and answers.

Asked if there are plans to close Granite City High School North, Dewey Melton, who is serving on the school board by appointment and is seeking a two-year term, answered, "Rumors are rampant that we plan to close North. I know of no plans on the board to close any school. Some time ago, there were some preliminary studies done—very preliminary. I am not willing or able to act on those."

"If there comes a time it would be prudent on the board of education to study these, we will study each and the ramifications to be sure the appropriate education is provided. I feel education is the number one priority," Melton concluded.

Incumbent Tom Miosky, who is seeking another four-year term on the board, agreed with Melton's statement on the possible consolidation of the two Madison aldermen polled by the Press-Record are unanimously in favor of the city adopting home rule, which is an issue on the ballot of the non-partisan election Tuesday, Nov. 3.

Following are the answers of each alderman in Madison to the two questions asked last week by the Press-Record. The first question was, "Are you for or against home rule?" and the second question was a simple, "Why?"

WARD ONE:
PAUL E. ASHFORD, 1630 Third St., telephone 876-0080.
For: "To keep control of the city of Madison, in Madison. Every time we have a caucus, we have to get a lawyer and law books and check what the state (Illinois Statutes) says we can and cannot do."

they do now."
WARD TWO:
ROBERT DON REEVES, 1621 Fifth St., 481-7900.
For: "Mainly, it is better for the citizens who continue to live in our community. I have been in the city administration since 1961 and all the good things we enjoy in our community have derived from the 'yes' votes of what has been brought to a vote."

"I feel that home rule will help people be closer to their city hall in any type of ordinance we may endeavor to promote. I feel that being a city unable to have a business of our own or having commodities to sell, rather than continuing paying taxes, limits us."

"Home rule will help us get our own cable TV and, perhaps, operate it better away from the needs and wants of our citizens without possible lawsuits or outside interference."

WARD THREE:
IDA DANT, 1715 Third St., 483-3169.
For: "Because I think it will benefit the City of Madison."

WARD THREE:
WILLIAM L. GUSLEFF, 1617 Fourth St., 877-5492.

"It's the only way I can think of, at this point, to obtain our own cable TV system. I think with the city owning cable TV, we will be able to provide two things for the citizens."

"First of all, a good source of revenue. Secondly, we will be able to control the price and the system so that we can offer such things as the alarm system. I see this as an ongoing method of acquiring revenue in the future and, perhaps, good enough to remove any needs to tax the citizens to any great extent."

"In answer to critics of home rule, I am publicly committing myself not to vote for any more taxes in the near future, regardless of whether home rule passes. Some of the charges being made are ridiculous and in the form of scare tactics. I have to run for office and I am not going to do any of the crazy things they say we are going to do because of home rule."

Madison High students learn about careers

A representative from Hickey School, JoAnn Rawson, spoke to Lee Ashby's first, second and fourth hour classes and Mrs. Rawson Parks fifth hour class at Madison High School on the subject of "Rating Your Opportunities and Planning Your Career."

She pointed out the importance of setting long range goals that will increase the happiness and fulfillment in their lives. It was pointed out that many women work because of desire. The last area is increasing rapidly.

It was pointed out that the basic career considerations should fall into four general areas: physical requirements, educational requirements, experience requirements and job availability.

She pointed out that employees look for: habits, skills, attitude and the ability to communicate both verbally and non-verbally. She pointed out the large number of opportunities that are available to the well prepared secretarial student and the growth in the accounting area.

The speaker advised the students to explore their career interest and then the availability of jobs in their area of interest.

She suggested that, once these two important areas of planning are explored, the student must decide if training beyond high school is advisable. If so, they must investigate the various institutions that offer additional training and select the one that will fill their needs most and in the shortest period of time.

3 BAC candidates seeking 'harmony'

"Harmony" is the one thing Belleville Area College needs to improve its educational program and to motivate its staff to give the best possible education to BAC students, three candidates for the BAC Board of Trustees contend.

The three candidates, all from "The Harmony Party," urged members of the Granite City Democrat Club last week to elect them, and return harmony to the administration, faculty and board of the college, which has been torn apart by bitter disagreements over the college's presidency.

Most outspoken in her statements here was Esther Vasiloff of Granite City, who contended that some of the teachers of BAC night courses are not devoting their full energies to their jobs. She said that when an instructor tells his class to leave if he is not there in the first five minutes or if he teaches only one hour of a three-hour class and dismisses the students early, he "is cheating. The taxpayers are paying for a quality education and the students are paying for a full education," she stated.

She said there is "dissonance between the faculty, the administration and the board. I feel all sides need to be educated." She contended the union faculty challenged her petitions of candidacy "when no one knows anything about my background." She noted that she was a charter member of the Venice teachers' union and is associated with the Granite City teachers' union. She currently is a school psychologist.

She said she was surprised when the BAC instructors' union members challenged her petitions, stating, "They didn't even talk to me about my feelings on their concerns."

She said she learned at 6 p.m. the evening of the meeting that her name would be on the ballot. The union challenges, succeeded in eliminating the name of former Madison superintendent of schools Fred Riddle from the ballot, but when her petitions were appealed the decision, which was upheld last Wednesday. Asked about rumors that BAC might close its full-time facility in the former Washington School, Mrs. Vasiloff said, "I do not know the answer," she stated.

Dr. Donald Jerome, a Belleville physician, also was outspoken in his comments on the challenge to the group's petitions. "I never knew the people who tried to disqualify us as candidates. I know they are members of the union and are spreading circulars now that we want to close the nursing school. It is not true," Dr. Jerome said, praising the quality and quantity of nursing graduates from BAC.

He noted that he is an advisor for the nursing school and now is president of the board of advisors. He also is a BAC graduate and feels an allegiance to the school, he said.

"We are trying to restore the harmony between the faculty, administration and board within fiscal restraints. There is a lot of disharmony there," he contended.

A union man in the audience asked how Dr. Jerome felt about alleged recent attempts by the present board to break the union at BAC and Jerome answered, "I don't have a political viewpoint on that. One must learn to get along with others," he said.

He said he would favor expanding the programs of BAC outside of the Belleville campus, including Granite City. "I am very interested in getting out anywhere and getting nurses and paramedics training out to the communities," he stated.

Homer Liebig, the retired city treasurer of Belleville, said he is on the Geket because he believes in the aims of BAC and watched its formation and growth.

He said two of his best friends "worked and worked and worked and were successful in getting BAC organized." He added, "We hope to work in harmony and give you a better college."

employees of the school district. On the school board, he has always tried to balance the need for quality education, a limited tax income and the desire of teachers for a reasonable and adequate income.

His opponent, Crider, said he has been a teacher, principal and central administrator in the Granite City school district and has been involved in planning the future. "I know what it is to work 17 or 18 hours a day. He said he is a teacher in the Clayton, Mo., school district and believes that Granite City schools need to be part of some of the programs Clayton has.

"I believe our board has done the best they could in this period of fiscal restraints and said he has a 'great deal of respect for the community, the parents and the staff' of the schools. Miosky said he has served on the board for 15 years and has gained valuable experience. He also has been a teacher and has worked for the industrial relations department of Granite City Steel for the last 4 1/2 years.

Commenting on the current school situation, Miosky stated, "I'll be the first to say we have problems, but we also have solutions and we've planned ahead. We haven't flown by the seat of our pants. He said all the planning has put curriculum first in importance. "If the school board had not been so concerned about the curriculum, we wouldn't have had to do that. We have been attempting to cut costs without cutting the educational curriculum," he noted.

Fisk asked Miosky why studies show that some Granite City high school graduates lack skills in basic reading and writing habits, and Miosky said, "We have been attacking this problem for several years. I don't know if you've ever produced a percent reading and writing at the 12th grade level, but the students are staying in school more, instead of dropping out. We're attacking the problem," Miosky concluded.

McGee said that he was a union electrician for 13 years before taking a year off to become a supervisor. He has been with American Steel Industries 18 years.

He said he has been active eight years in the Wilson School PTA, the last two as its treasurer, and has been active in Cub Scouting for many years. "My intent is to maintain neighborhood schools and in keeping the interest of children as the first priority," he concluded.

McGee, chief of maintenance for the support division of the St. Louis mapping agency of the U.S. Army, said he believes the school district "should give a good, sound, quality education and equip students to cope with life as adults, instead of catering to the present needs of the students first and the future needs last."

He contended that several mistakes have been made by past school boards, including a smoking area for high school students. "It is an atmosphere for the bad to corrupt the good. We are turning out students who can't add, subtract or spell. Society can't afford this. I am concerned about the education of our future leaders — our children."

Gargue also alleged that deficit spending, inefficiency, a lack of public input, heavy administrative overhead costs and decaying facilities are some of the problems past boards have created. He noted that he has attended many school board meetings and his attendance record exceeds that of any other candidate and of many board members.

Gyaki, a Pontoon Beach resident, said he and his wife, a teacher and active PTA president, "have seen the trials and tribulations and are honestly concerned with what is going on in our school district."

He said the board must realize that its primary responsibility is to the children and the taxpayers.

Mrs. Stevens said she has been a teacher for 20 years and the Madison Schools and teaches 300 children a week. "I think the school district should not go back to basics, but return to basic education and must eliminate waste in these difficult financial times" and must exhibit a "willingness to make sensible concessions."

Teachers must show the ability to teach the skills that children will need to cope with rapidly changing times, he said, contending that "in recent years, teachers have been turned into clerks, social workers, policemen and psychologists." She concluded, "We must go back to basic education and let the teachers teach instead of being nursemaids, janitors and babysitters."

Stephen Saltich, a Granite City alderman and former school board president, read a message from incumbent school board member L. Monroe Worthen, who said he heads the negotiating committee and has been active on the school board. "I have an intense desire to continue serving the residents of School District 9," Worthen's letter said.

The club also heard comments from a slate of candidates for Belleville Area College trustees. Those comments appear in a separate article in today's Press-Record.

local chapter, and Joanne Higgins, Dr. David Friedman, a staunch supporter of this program, graciously offered the pool facilities at his home until his death in 1976 and the program has continued uninterrupted since 1977 at the Roger Bowler residence.

The program of teaching the handicapped to swim and swim better, explained Miss Higgins, has far reaching benefits. "The therapeutic value of swimming greatly enhances the physical condition of the student while, at the same time, it opens up an avenue of freedom for the child or adult in a wheelchair. Progress can be slow, especially for those students more severely handicapped than others, but the end result is what counts."

If they have the perseverance and the will to achieve, they will experience a luxury in the water they don't have on land — the freedom to walk." According to Miss Higgins, "The success of this program year after year would not be possible without the continued support of a truly fantastic group of volunteers. They share equally in this award winning program."

"We are tremendously proud that Joanne has been recognized for her outstanding work as director of this marvelous program," commented Miss O'Guin. "We salute her and her staff of dedicated volunteers, several of whom have been with the program since 1975. A great deal of time and effort on their part each year has reaped a harvest of dividends."

"If you want to feel good about yourself and this community, if you want to see a reflection of this nation's compassion and unselfishness, come join us next summer at the Handicapped Swim Program," she concluded.

Physics seminar opening Friday

Anything in physics from passive solar design to television game microcomputers will be on the program Oct. 23 and 24 for the annual fall meeting of the American Association of Physics Teachers, which will discuss the "Excitement of the Eighties" at 8 p.m. Friday, following a banquet at Holiday Inn, Edwardsville.

The session for high school college and university physics teachers begins at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Science Building with registration and opening address by Thomas P. Anderson, dean of the School of Science and Engineering at SIUE.

The program of individual sessions by the state of physics educators begins at 2 p.m. with Thomas H. Physics and ATARI will be presented by Douglas Davis of Eastern Illinois University at 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Fred W. Zurbelle, SIUE physics professor will report on the Summer Institute for Talented High School Students he helped conduct at SIUE last year. By combining physics with social science and the humanities, Zurbelle helped design and implement a broad summer study that gave students a view of the world from all three disciplines.

Other SIUE faculty on the program are Arthur Braundmeier, reporting on "experiments in materials for photothermal solar energy devices; Emmet G. Beettner, discussing the home use of TRS 80 microcomputers, and Laurence McAnany on Newton's laws of motion.

The Granite City Council for Gifted Children will meet from 7 to 9 tonight at Parkview school, 3000 Maryville Road, to hear a program on "Death and Dying."

A general business meeting will be held, with the council planning for the coming year. "A very special program for both children and adults," is promised by Randall A. Irwin from Irwin Chapel for Funerals, speaking on the topic "Death and Dying."

Since the program is of a sensitive nature, all children must be accompanied by an adult, a spokesman said.

All identified gifted children and their parents are invited to attend, according to Kathy A. Dauer, vice-president of the Granite City Council for Gifted Children.

HOME BURGLARIZED

A six-pack of beer was stolen from a refrigerator and coins totaling $3 were taken last week by a burglar who forced open a door at the home of Robert Adams, 2249 State St.

Suspect held in rape case

Granite City police are holding a suspect while they investigate allegations by a 16-year-old Pontoon Beach girl that she was raped during a party in the 3000 block of Nantoni Drive about 2 a.m. Saturday.

The victim said she had been riding with friends and picked up a hitchhiker who was a neighbor of the driver of the car. They all went to the party, where beer was served, she said.

She said she was on medication and became sleepy, so she went out to her friend's car and fell asleep in the back yard. When she awoke, the hitchhiker was in her car with her and he forced her clothing off her and raped her, she reported.

Friends came outside and found the girl screaming and the man molesting her, it was alleged. The friends said that earlier in the evening, while the victim slept, the hitchhiker had made lewd comments to several of the girls at the party and had gotten into fights with at least two of the young men there. One knocked the hitchhiker unconscious and they placed him in the back yard until he awoke, they said.

The next time they saw him, he was in the auto with the young woman, they told police.

The victim was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for examination and the suspect, who suffered injuries in the earlier fights, was treated in the emergency room for minor injuries and was jailed, pending further investigation and the possible filing of charges.

Jail for burglary of stored articles

Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian has ordered William Pierce to serve 25 days in the Madison County Jail and two years of probation for a July 20 burglary in Granite City.

Pierce, 29, resides at Staunton Rural Route Two. In the same case, Matosian has levied a $350 fine against Charles Pierce, 27, Wood River, placed him on two-year probation and ordered him to serve eight days in the county jail.

Authorities said locks were cut and storage space was looted at the Pontoon Plaza Storage, 280 Pontoon Road. William Pierce was taken into custody at the storage site by Granite City police. His brother, Charles, was arrested following an investigation.

Car hits fence; driver arrested

Rosetta White, 52, of 2928 Morgan St., was charged with driving while intoxicated after her car allegedly struck a fence at the home of Hector Bolin, 2004 Dewey Ave., at 9:40 p.m. Friday.

Witnesses said the west-bound auto skidded sideways on the wet pavement on West 20th Street and came to a stop sideways in the road. It then backed up over the sidewalk and into the fence and then turned onto the sidewalk and came to rest against the fence.

The driver got out of the car and walked to Victor's Tavern, police were told. They arrested Mrs. White in the tavern and alleged she refused to take a breath test for alcohol.

She was released at 10:50 p.m. Friday after posting her driver's license as bail.

Hearings on dental school

Public hearings on dental education in Illinois are scheduled tomorrow in Alton and East St. Louis, according to Dr. Diego Redondo of Deerfield. He is chairman of the Dental Education Committee of the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

The first hearing will begin at 11 a.m. in the Center for Professional Development auditorium, on the Alton campus of the SIUE School of Dental Medicine. The session will continue until 12:30 p.m. and will resume at 1 p.m. after a half-hour lunch break.

The seven-member committee is scheduled to leave Alton at 2 p.m. and the hearing in East St. Louis will begin at 9 p.m. in the SIUE East St. Louis Center (Broadview Building). The East St. Louis session will conclude at 4 p.m.

Both hearings will be preceded by tours of the university's dental facilities—the main campus of the School of Dental Medicine at Alton and the dental clinic in the Broadview Building.

The IBHE committee was appointed last month "to review statewide capacity for dental education, alternatives to the regionalization of dental education, retention of dental school graduates for practice in Illinois, and the economic and educational justification for the SIUE dental school."

The committee held its first meeting Oct. 6 following an IBHE meeting on the Illinois state University Campus at Normal. Presentations were made by Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw of the SIU System and President Earl Lazerson of SIU at Edwardsville.

Members of the Dental Education Committee, in addition to Dr. Redondo, are: Gaylord Donnelly, Libertyville; William Harris, Pontiac; Richard Hart, Benton; Richard P. Stone, Springfield; James M. Unland, Pekin; and Merle R. Yontz, Peoria.

REPLACE BRIDGE DECK

A $210,000 contract has been awarded for removal and replacement of the concrete deck on the bridge carrying Ill. 157 over Judy's Branch at the intersection with Ill. 162 at the southwest edge of Glen Carbon. Keller Construction, Inc., Edwardsville, will do the work.

Army award to GC man

Marvin K. Cornett, a Granite City man employed at the Army Troop Support and Aviation Materiel Readiness Command, has been honored by the Department of the Army for having accumulated 3,000 hours of sick leave.

Maj. Gen. Emil L. Konopnicki, TSARCOM commander, presented a certificate of recognition and an engraved plaque to Cornett at a special ceremony at the Army headquarters, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd. in presenting the award, the general said, "I commend you for what I consider a very outstanding accomplishment."

Cornett, an equipment specialist in the command's Directorate for Maintenance, has more than 38 years of federal service. Included are two and a half years of Army service during World War II.

Prior to that, he was assigned to the St. Louis Area Support Center, Granite City, then known as the Granite City Army Depot.

Cornett and his wife, Ruth, live at 1752 Venice Ave. They are parents of four children.

City refuses funds to buy more flags

Has the financial crisis in Granite City's general fund dimmed the patriotism of the Granite City Council? Probably not, but it has severely hampered their ability to assist in patriotic causes when money is involved, it was evident at the last council meeting.

A request was read from local patriot Steve Konkovich, who asked the council to replace about 90 outdoor American flags which have been stolen from brackets on utility poles after patriotic parades and veterans' holidays.

The council briefly considered the request and then ordered the letter "placed on file," due to the shortage of city funds.

2 HURT IN ACCIDENT

Jeff Turner, 20, of 5175 Old Alton Road, and a passenger in his car, Charles Hollis, 20, of 2650 Whipperwill Lane, were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after their auto and the car of Luella Kent, 4917 Redwood Lane, collided at Pontoon and Nameoki roads at 8:30 p.m. last week. Luella Kent was charged with disobeying the traffic signal after her eastbound auto allegedly went into the intersection after the eastbound light had turned red and Turner's northbound car had started into the intersection on the green light. Turner and Hollis were not believed to be seriously injured.

RESTITUTION ORDER

Charged with petty property damage after an Aug. 19 incident, Steven Walker, 18, of 2229 Madison Ave. has been ordered by Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick to make $30 restitution. The charge was amended from an original allegation of burglary.

Continue bus police

Bi-State Executive Director John H. Foelker announced last week that after further review and evaluation, he is rescinding a 30 percent reduction proposed in the bus undercover police program.

The saving that was anticipated through a reduction in the part-time hiring of off-duty policemen and policewomen is expected to be achieved through tighter controls of claims costs in the self-insurance program.

Foelker said Security Director Frank Kavanaugh will also "closely monitor the security budget and effect savings in manpower utilization wherever possible without reducing the program objectives."

"The safety of our passengers and bus operators is of paramount importance," and after looking at the history before and after the on-board security program began, there is no question that today's buses are safer, quieter and more pleasant to ride because of the fine job done by the security force.

"An overall tightening of the review process for payment of claims in settlement of suits will be accomplished by the risk management department under its director, Harry Maue. Risk management administers our self-insurance program and oversees the security program."

ARREST IN 3-CAR TRAFFIC ACCIDENT

Elizabeth Darr, 18, of 2021 Washington Ave. was charged with driving without a license after an auto approached a stoplight on Nameoki Road at Pontoon Road last week and hit a car that was knocked against a third auto.

Marsha Gracey, 5150 Old Alton Road, reported damage to the back and front of her vehicle and Eunice Hatcher, 1620 Wellington, reported damage to the rear of her car.

Police held the Darr auto, owned by William Hayes, Rural Route One, while they investigated reports that two men left it after the crash.

Elizabeth Darr, freed on $65 bail at 7 p.m. Monday, said she did not know their names.

At the October meeting of the school's PTA President Dane Wheeler introduced the class and each child read and explained his part of the paper.

Mrs. Wheeler announced that the candy sale was a complete success. She then introduced eight candidates for the school board on the Nov. 3 election ballot.

Each candidate was given three minutes to discuss his or her qualifications. The following candidates spoke:

Allan Crider, Donald Gargac, Julie Gates, Eric Gyaki, Raymond McGee, Tom Mindes, Dewey Melton and Valerie Stevens.

A 15-minute question and answer session was held after the introductions. After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Troop 7 believes in Boy Scouting

The patrols of Boy Scout Troop 7, sponsored by St. Joseph's Catholic Church, took advantage of the Columbus Day weekend to discover again that scouting does make for a better life for them.

On Saturday, Flaming Arrow Patrol held a bike hike over the 1904 World's Fair Historical Trail in Forest Park. The Scouts had hiked the same trail by foot the previous month.

En route home, Scoutmaster Robert Manzer, Senior Patrol Leader Kevin Williamson, Flaming Arrow Patrol Leader Joey Kusmierczak and Scouts James Barron, Tim Szyneck, Mark Brazel, Mike Brazel and David Pinero stopped at Pino's in downtown St. Louis for pizza.

The Patrol gave a special "thank you" to Ted Brazel and Vic Szyneck, who provided transportation for the bikes.

Two days later, Scouts from the troop enjoyed a day of activities in downtown St. Louis under the direction of the Cobra and Panther Patrols. Participating were Cobra Patrol Leader Jeff Kittel and Mark Brazel, Kerry Martin, Mike Brazel, Frank Scaturro, David Pinero, Eric Markovich, Mike Alfardo, Karl Markovich, James Barron and Norman Fulkerson.

After a morning visit to the Old Courthouse, the scouts ate lunch at Talston-Purina, which was arranged by Troop Committee Chairman Jeanne Brandon.

The boys then viewed the movie "Carbon Copy" at a downtown theater. Then it was on to the Westward Expansion Museum and a view of the city from the top of the Arch.

Capping off the day, Scoutmaster Manzer took the boys on the floating McDonald's for an ice cream and then along the river for a short hike.

The Troop has planned a bike sale on Nov. 1 after each of the masses at St. Joseph's. Each scout family is being asked to provide two items for the sale.

Grant to area planning group

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs has awarded a $43,700 comprehensive planning assistance grant to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

The funds are part of a grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development for support of planning activities by areawide planning organizations in the state.

The federal funds are designed to help regional planning agencies deliver services in such areas as community conservation, aid to distressed places, expansion of housing and employment opportunities, and development of orderly and efficient growth.

The grant will permit SIMAPC to implement its plan for a pro-growth development within the counties of Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington.

Some of the activities to be undertaken include the identification of new program directions resulting from federal program changes and budget reductions, and the supply of information and assistance to area governments and development organizations.

POLICEMAN PUNCHED
Todd A. York, 20, of 1711 Poplar St., was charged with resisting arrest and battery after he allegedly punched two men, including a Granite City policeman, during a disturbance outside of the VFW Post, 21st Street and Washington Avenue, at 12:06 a.m. Sunday. Patrolman Walter Milton Jr. said he answered a call of a large fight outside of the VFW and when he arrived, he found a large crowd. While he was talking to several persons, York allegedly ran across the street and punched another man. Milton followed and when Milton ordered him to stop, York allegedly turned and punched Milton in the face. The officer used force to subdue York and alleged he resisted efforts to arrest him. York was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center before being lodged in jail.

Dedicate new airport terminal in Cahokia

Dedication ceremonies were held last week at Bi-State Parks Airport in Cahokia for the newly-completed terminal complex, airport access road and railroad overpass. The facilities are part of a multi-million-dollar airport expansion project.

"This is a very special day, not only for the Bi-State Development Agency and for Bi-State Parks Airport, but for the metropolitan area in general," said John H. Fuehl, Bi-State interim director.

"This airport provides an essential service to the entire area. Without its role as a reliever airport for Lambert-St. Louis International Airport, we would have crash control center, and administrative offices for the airport and an adjoining 50-acre industrial park."

The new access road to the airport includes bridges over Upper Cahokia Road and the Missouri Pacific main line railroad tracks.

The terminal complex and access road are part of a $3.6 million Economic Development Administration (EDA) project.

The total project includes the terminal complex, the bridge structure and primary dirt work for the bridge on the access road; construction of a 14-unit hangar; and installation of a water and sewer system for the industrial park.

Seventy percent of the funds were provided by an EDA grant, 15 percent by the State of Illinois, and the remaining 15 percent by the Bi-State Agency through bank loans to be paid back from rentals and fees collected at the airport.

Nongrant funds, operating or capital, were used in the project. The EDA is part of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The Bi-State Development

Agency purchased the airport, then called Parks Metropolitan, in 1965 for $1.7 million by selling revenue bonds with Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) grants, and a loan from the City of St. Louis.

Since taking over operation of the airport, Bi-State has made many improvements to the once abandoned airfield. Among the improvements made in recent years have been new runways, taxiways and aircraft parking aprons; navigational aids and instrument landing facilities; installation of an FAA air traffic control tower; hangar construction, and other physical improvements.

Extension of the existing runway and construction of a parallel runway with adjoining taxiways will begin in the near future.

There were more than 184,000 takeoffs and landings at Bi-State Parks Airport last year, making it the second busiest airport in the St. Louis region and the busiest airport in Illinois outside the Chicago area.

"Today's ceremonies salute the past and the future," said James S. Nations, chairman of the Bi-State board and featured speaker at the dedication ceremonies.

"We can take great pride in the successful completion of not only these facilities, but all the improvement projects thus far. We look to an even brighter future when Bi-State Parks Airport and Industrial Park offer more and more opportunities to the area for aviation service and economic growth and development."

Industrial retention program launched

By ED GURNEY

A state program aimed at retaining industries that employ 50,000 people in southwestern Illinois was launched last week.

Teams of local volunteers will contact industries to determine problems which can be solved through the cooperation of local and state economic development organizations.

"This can be the largest industrial retention program that's ever been started in Illinois," said James Kiley, special assistant to the governor for economic development.

The program is sponsored by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs as part of an effort started three years ago to "counteract bad publicity" about the state, Kiley said. He spoke at a press conference at SIUE held prior to a training session for the local volunteers who will be contacting industries.

Firms have been enlisted and lured by other areas, including the "humidity belt," Kiley said, referring to the prospering South.

"The goal is to complete the first contacts by Thanksgiving," he said, "but this is not a one-shot deal. It's the first step in a long effort."

By participating in the program, "local communities are showing they want industry to stay," Kiley said.

Castle said the program is also designed to identify industries with plans to expand and possibly move from Illinois.

In addition to Madison and St. Clair, the program includes Bond, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Randolph and Washington counties. Moonshower said the cost will be minimal, mostly for mail and postage.

when he was asked if there is a minimum size to get help from the program.

Dr. Robert Koepke of SIUE said there are 300 industries in this area to contact.

"The goal is to complete the first contacts by Thanksgiving," he said, "but this is not a one-shot deal. It's the first step in a long effort."

By participating in the program, "local communities are showing they want industry to stay," Kiley said.

Castle said the program is also designed to identify industries with plans to expand and possibly move from Illinois.

In addition to Madison and St. Clair, the program includes Bond, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Randolph and Washington counties. Moonshower said the cost will be minimal, mostly for mail and postage.

were identified as possible candidates for expansion.

"Those are companies state and local governments did not know about until the program started," Castle said.

Gov. James R. Thompson, in a telegram to Moonshower, said, "Since over 80 percent of new jobs are created by existing industry, your efforts to retain local industry and encourage its expansion are both timely and on target."

SIUE and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission will serve as bases of operations for the program.

In addition to Madison and St. Clair, the program includes Bond, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Jersey, Macoupin, Monroe, Montgomery, Perry, Randolph and Washington counties.

Moonshower said the cost will be minimal, mostly for mail and postage.

JIM HALL, service manager at Woodrome Oldsmobile, has won a four-day all-expense trip for him and his wife to Acapulco, Mexico, for outstanding service.

In competition with 130 other dealers in the St. Louis zone, Hall's department earned the highest number of points for lowest owner complaints, the highest increase in customer labor sales and the highest percentage of campaign completions.

Woodrome currently is spearheading the effort by new car dealers in Granite City to urge the city to repeal the one percent supplemental sales tax, but he says the anti-tax effort is growing rapidly and is likely to involve many merchants.

"The used car dealers are getting more active and have made substantial commitments to our fight and are expressing strong interest in assisting us. A fund will be established for this purpose," Woodrome noted.

Woodrome noted that "a substantial sum of money has been spent and we have heavy commitments as dealers to the effort to stop the tax from being collected Nov. 1."

An advertising campaign in the Press-Record urging citizens and merchants to contact Woodrome if they oppose the supplemental sales tax has been "very rewarding," Woodrome said.

"I estimate we are getting 15 to 20 calls an hour, and that is not exaggerating. The phones are almost ringing constantly. It is hard to do regular business."

"There are a lot of irate citizens who feel the tax is a rip-off and some say they are not going to shop in a store that is collecting this one percent rip-off. They are irate that the Granite City Council would ask the people to pay this extra tax," Woodrome said.

"Some of the calls are from persons who have to pay the tax because they lack proper transportation to shop outside of the city and they feel this will hurt their budgets."

"Other calls are from merchants who are very favorable to fighting the tax. I would say 100 percent are sympathetic and opposed to the tax and 90 percent want to pursue any legal action. A lot of people want to join our committee and help work against the tax."

"The response from citizens and merchants has been very rewarding," Woodrome said, adding, "Hopefully, some of these same people have also called city hall and their aldermen."

He said he believes there will be a meeting of the new car dealers and possibly the used car dealers today to determine a course of action to keep the tax from being imposed Nov. 1. Attorneys from Madison County and St. Louis are expected to have preliminary reports ready on alternative methods for challenging the tax collection by the city, he noted.

Woodrome said there are no plans, at this time, to attend tomorrow night's Granite City Council meeting and make another appeal to the council to repeal the tax. "We requested that the tax be repealed and at the last meeting of the council and feel they kind of slapped us in the face by not discussing our proposals or reading them to the public or anything else," Woodrome added.

He had called a press conference for Friday afternoon, but cancelled it when he found out the proposals from the attorneys would not be ready until today. However, he has scheduled television interviews with all of the major St. Louis network television stations and has appeared on several televised newscasts to describe the organized opposition to the tax. Basically, the tax passed by the city council is a one percent supplemental Retailer Occupation Tax which will be collected locally by the city, starting Nov. 1, in addition to the state-collected one percent Retailer Occupation Tax which is related to the city.

City council members contend that additional funds are needed to keep essential city services operating and point to the staff reductions in many city departments this summer which were necessary to try and balance the budget.

Woodrome and others contend that the city needs only about $400,000 to balance its budget and the one percent sales tax will bring in about $1.8 million, unless it has an adverse effect on the number of sales in the city, which he contends it will have.

He proposes that the city either rescind the tax, put a $5 maximum tax on any one purchase or exempt auto dealers from the tax and charge a one percent on all car purchases by Granite City residents, payable when they purchase their automotive wheel tax sticker (city sticker) each year.

Failure to amend the tax or rescind it will lead, eventually, to all new automotive dealerships being forced to move outside of the city limits, he contends.

Pledges lawsuit against city tax

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

There will be a lawsuit challenging Granite City's right to impose a one percent sales tax on purchases in Granite City, Bill Woodrome, president of Woodrome Oldsmobile and head of a group opposing the new tax, announced Friday.

"We have two major law firms working on this and they say there are several things they consider defective about the sales tax ordinance," Woodrome stated. He said he did not wish to discuss specific deficiencies of the law, at this time, since it has not been decided upon which grounds the ordinance will be challenged in court. "We don't want to tip our cards, yet," he said.

Woodrome currently is spearheading the effort by new car dealers in Granite City to urge the city to repeal the one percent supplemental sales tax, but he says the anti-tax effort is growing rapidly and is likely to involve many merchants.

"The used car dealers are getting more active and have made substantial commitments to our fight and are expressing strong interest in assisting us. A fund will be established for this purpose," Woodrome noted.

Woodrome noted that "a substantial sum of money has been spent and we have heavy commitments as dealers to the effort to stop the tax from being collected Nov. 1."

An advertising campaign in the Press-Record urging citizens and merchants to contact Woodrome if they oppose the supplemental sales tax has been "very rewarding," Woodrome said.

"I estimate we are getting 15 to 20 calls an hour, and that is not exaggerating. The phones are almost ringing constantly. It is hard to do regular business."

"There are a lot of irate citizens who feel the tax is a rip-off and some say they are not going to shop in a store that is collecting this one percent rip-off. They are irate that the Granite City Council would ask the people to pay this extra tax," Woodrome said.

"Some of the calls are from persons who have to pay the tax because they lack proper transportation to shop outside of the city and they feel this will hurt their budgets."

"Other calls are from merchants who are very favorable to fighting the tax. I would say 100 percent are sympathetic and opposed to the tax and 90 percent want to pursue any legal action. A lot of people want to join our committee and help work against the tax."

"The response from citizens and merchants has been very rewarding," Woodrome said, adding, "Hopefully, some of these same people have also called city hall and their aldermen."

He said he believes there will be a meeting of the new car dealers and possibly the used car dealers today to determine a course of action to keep the tax from being imposed Nov. 1. Proclaim Business Women's Week

By VALERIE EVENEDEN of the Press-Record

A series of activities in connection with National Business Women's Week, being observed nationwide this week, is announced today by Ollie Derr, president of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Hazel Rollins is general chairman of the week's itinerary, which started yesterday and continues through Sunday, Oct. 25. She is being assisted by Ramona Burnett.

The celebration was initiated with the issuance of a formal proclamation, signed Thursday by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City, Madison Mayor Mike Sasek and Mayor of Venice Tyrone Echols.

The document urges "all citizens of the Quad-Cities to join in a salute to working women."

Launching the week's schedule was Sunday's "Elegant Eighties" style show, featuring 80's models in a preview of fall and winter fashions, provided by 13 local business firms.

Several hundred persons were in the audience. On Tuesday, Oct. 20, local BPW club members will attend a regular meeting of the City Council, scheduled at 8 p.m. in the Granite City Township Building, 2050 Delmar Ave.

The traditional "Legislation Night" dinner is arranged for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant, featuring Madison County Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen as guest speaker.

State legislators, members of the judiciary and area elected officials will be special guests. On Thursday, the Granite City Business Women's group will enjoy a social evening on board

The conference is presented each fall under the auspices of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women and involves appearances by state legislators from various sections of Illinois.

Accompanying BPW President Ollie Derr, club members will attend Sunday morning worship services at the United Presbyterian Church of Madison.

The Rev. Charlotte Zachary, pastor of St. Louis Madison church, also is a member of the local BPW club.

A brunch will be served following the service at Char's Restaurant, 1803 Ramada Blvd., near

"Whereas—working women constitute 43 million of the nation's work force, and are constantly striving to serve their communities, their states and their nation in civic and cultural programs, and

Whereas—major goals of Business and Professional Women are to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, educational, economic and political problems; to help them be of greater service to their community; to further friendship with women throughout the world, and

"Whereas—all of us are proud of their leadership in these many fields of endeavor,

"Now, therefore we, do hereby proclaim Oct. 18 through Oct. 25, 1981, as National Business Week, sponsored by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. and urge all citizens of the Quad-City area, all civic and fraternal groups, all educational associations, all news media and other community organizations to join in this salute to working women by encouraging and promoting the celebration of the achievements of all business and professional women as they contribute daily to our economic, civic and cultural purposes."

Governments' '81 pay pacts average 7.3%

During the first half of 1981, settlements reached in 20 major state and local government bargaining units covering 217,000 employees provided average first-year adjustments of 7.3 percent, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Annual adjustments over the life of these contracts also averaged 7.3 percent. The statistics on state and local government collective bargaining agreements cover 82 units with at least 5,000 workers.

These units have 1,003,000 employees, about one-fourth of all state and local government employees under negotiated agreements.

Samuel L. Johnson, 31, of 2027 Cleveland Blvd., faces four charges after his pickup truck allegedly struck the parked pickup truck of James Leslie, 208 Denver St., in front of Leslie's home at 3:55 p.m. Friday and then left the scene. Johnson was located by police at 4:20 p.m. and allegedly admitted being involved in the hit-and-run accident. He was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, failure to give information at the scene of an accident, failure to reduce speed to avoid a crash and failure to obtain an Illinois driver's license when he moved here from Texas. He suffered minor injuries in the crash, but declined immediate medical treatment, police said.

Falcons hit high gear as Cards sputter

Special to the Press-Record
ATLANTA — If not for the red shirts the Atlanta Falcons were wearing here Sunday, the St. Louis Cardinals could have thought they were playing any of the other five teams that have defeated them this season in their first seven games.

Atlanta capitalized on numerous St. Louis turnovers, dropped passes and mistakes to score a 41-20 victory over the floundering Big Red. Atlanta became the latest team to turn its season around by playing St. Louis. Last week it was the New York Giants who did it. Next week, Minnesota, which is flying high with five straight victories including one Sunday over previously undefeated Philadelphia, gets a shot at the Cardinals at Busch Memorial Stadium. Maybe the Cardinals have to be playing a team that's NOT going to be in order to pull out a win. Remember the last victory for the Big Red came two weeks ago at home against a then-unbeaten Dallas Cowboy team.

The St. Louis loss was just like the rest. The Cardinals took an early lead and appeared to have the Falcons under total control. When Otis Anderson scored his second one-yard touchdown of the game to make it 14-0, things looked pretty good for the St. Louis Cardinals. In fact, things looked even better when Atlanta fumbled the ensuing kickoff away, the Cardinals had a very definite chance to put the stumbling Falcons away.

But Anderson fumbled the ball back to Atlanta and that was just the spark the Falcons needed. They scored on their last four possessions of the second quarter and claimed a 20-14 lead at the halftime intermission. The Cardinals had allowed yet another opponent to get of the ropes and come back.

"There were a lot of reasons for it," said Cardinal coach Jim Hanifan of the loss. "But right now, I'm just ticked off overall. I think the biggest play might have been Tilley's non-catch in the end zone.

The play Hanifan was referring to came in the third quarter. With a first-and-goal-to-go situation at the Falcons' five-yard line, quarterback Jim Hart spilled wide receiver Pat Tilley breaking free in the end zone. Hart fired the ball low, but Tilley appeared to have caught it. He (Tilley) signaled touchdown. But the officials signaled no catch. They said he had trapped the ball against the ground. Replays showed later that Tilley indeed trapped the ball. "I'd say that was a pretty big play," said Hanifan. "They guy standing right in front of the play didn't make the call." At the time, the trailed 27-17.

St. Louis placekicker Neil O'Donoghue came in on fourth down and kicked a 22-yard field goal to make it 27-20.

Another questionable call by an official came earlier in the third period. The Cardinals were driving for what would have been the game-tying touchdown at that point. Hart appeared to have completed a pass to Anderson for a first down inside the Falcons' 15-yard line. But the official ruled no catch, even though replays from several angles showed the ball was caught by Anderson and never left his possession. In fact, he wasn't even close to the ground when he caught the ball.

The fourth quarter was all Atlanta. More correctly, it was the Steve Bartkowski and Williams Andrews show. Bartkowski, the Falcons' quarterback, hit Andrews with an 18-yard touchdown pass. Then he hit him on an innocent looking screen pass that Andrews turned into a 70-yard TD pass-run.

On the day, Bartkowski overcame a slow start to complete 18 of 32 for 288 yards. Hart completed 24 of 49 for 263 yards, and three interceptions. Neil Lomax, who replaced Hart late in the game, was 0-2 in passing.

Wet weekend Mud, turnovers doom Madison

MADISON — Triad football coach Ed Cange was hesitant to admit the Knights were only trying something in their 29-0 victory over Madison Saturday in a non-conference game in Madison.

"I don't know if I should say this," Cange said. "We're capable of breaking that big play. All we tried to do was concentrate on breaking the big play."

Madison coach Al Vonderhaar, who suffered his first defeat to Triad in his coaching career, thought, "It was an embarrassing situation. We got to something about it. I wish I had the answers."

"One man misses an assignment, and that hurt as a lot if that where the point of the play is. We're not playing good football. If we played well and lost, then we could say they were a better team, but in this situation, it shows they were smarter than we were," Vonderhaar said.

Triad executed the big plays in the first quarter. After a Madison punt to the Triad 44, running back Buddy Stroff raced up the middle for a 56 yard touchdown. The PAT was good.

On Madison's first play after the kickoff, Brad Buehrer intercepted Mark Zarr's pass at Madison's 27 yard line. Two plays later, quarterback Steve Brown

South game tonight

BELLEVILLE — Saturday night's rainy, severe weather forced the Granite City South vs. Belleville Althoff football game to be delayed until tonight (Monday). The game was originally scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday at Belleville Township Stadium.

Kick-off will be at 7:30 p.m. at the football field at Belleville West.

South head coach Jerry McKeehan said both teams agreed to the cancellation because of the muddy field and the tornado and severe storm watches that had been issued by the weather service.

The severe weather forced several area sporting events to be postponed. Saturday night's scheduled prep soccer game between St. Louis between Granite City South and St. Louis University High was postponed because of water standing on the Junior Billiken's field. Tentative plans call for the game to be made up this Thursday at SLUH.

ran 27 yards for another touchdown, less than a minute and a half after the first score.

In the second quarter, the Knights picked up a Madison fumble. Stroff capped a 11 play, 44 yard series with a four yard touchdown run with 1:10 left in the half. Brown threw to Pat McMillin for the PAT and the Knights led 21-0 at halftime.

Triad added another touchdown with 4:37 left in the third quarter on a one yard run by Steve McCabe. Brown and McMillin combined for the PAT again to give the Knights their margin of victory.

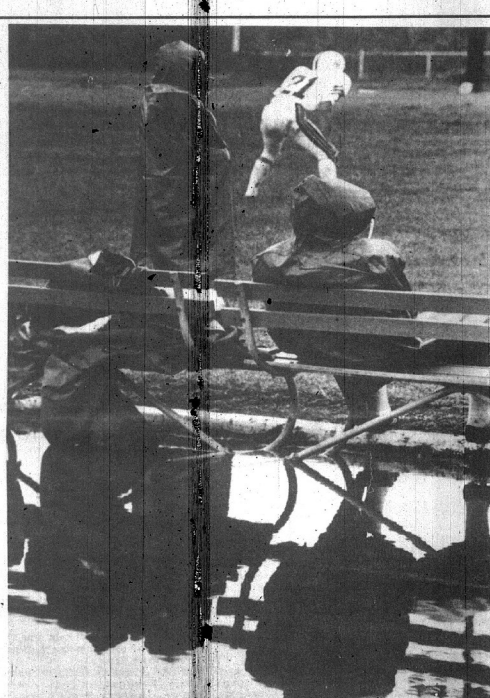

Prior to the game and during the first half, rained caused the field to become muddy and scattered with puddles. That contributed to five Madison turnovers and three Triad fumbles.

"In a game played on a field like this, nothing looked too good," Cange said. "It was hard to catch the football and run the football. The field didn't help. Madison because Madison is a quick team. It's hard to catch up on a field like this."

The Triad defense didn't help the Madison running game either. Madison was credited for only nine yards rushing for the entire game. Zarr, the Trojan's quarterback and punter, was sacked six times for 43

North loses overtime heartbreaker

GRANITE CITY — Dave Vieti's 27 yard field goal gave the Edwardsville Tigers a 13-10 double overtime victory here Friday over Granite City North and bumped the Steelers out of a share of first place in the Gateway East Conference.

However, the Steelers are very much still a contender for the GEC title—and a berth in the state football playoffs. The Steelers have a chance to avenge their loss to the Tigers Oct. 30 when North travels to Edwardsville.

The Steelers, 4-2 overall and 2-1 in the GEC, play at Cahokia Friday and ends the season with South. The Tigers, also 4-2 overall but 3-0 in the conference, host Belleville Althoff Friday and close the season at Cahokia.

"That's something the boys have to do," Steelers coach Tom Wyrostek said, referring to getting ready for the final three games. "Sometimes you get something dead that doesn't profit you. The boys have to come back and play well against Cahokia, Edwardsville, and South to stay in the race. We hope we learn something from this that can help us in those games."

"You've got to give Edwardsville a lot of credit for staying in there even though they were behind most of the game," Wyrostek said. The Steelers scored their only touchdown in the first quarter and held on to the lead for most of the game. Yet, the Steelers couldn't hold on long enough to hold the lead through regulation time, thus forcing overtime.

With fourth down and 25 yards to go with less than five minutes left in regulation time, the Tigers had to score. They were on North's 25 and anything less would have meant a Steeler win.

Tiger quarterback Mike DeLeonardis stepped back to pass. The Steelers blitzed DeLeonardis and covered the Tiger receivers, but DeLeonardis scrambled to his right and found an opening for the touchdown. Vieti's extra point tied the game and sent it into overtime.

The Tigers got the ball first in overtime, as Wyrostek hoped, and couldn't get past the seven yard line in three plays, so Vieti kicked a 23 yard field goal.

The Steelers were going for the winning touchdown in their first three downs. Passes slipped out of the hands of North receivers on first and third downs and north quarterback Carl Luehmman could only move the ball four yards on four down. Darren DePew kicked a 23 yard field goal to the game.

For the second overtime, the two teams moved from the south end of the field to the north end, and the Steelers got the ball. On North's first play, Luehmman tried for a touchdown, but

Cougars nip Quincy in overtime

QUINCY — The SIU-Edwardsville soccer Cougars had to go into two overtimes to do it, but they managed to squeak by four-time defending NAIA national champion Quincy College here Saturday 4-3 in collegiate soccer action.

The outcome wasn't decided until SIU-E's Steve Gauvain beat Quincy Hawk goalie Steve Todd with a penalty kick at the 1:03 mark of the second overtime period.

Played on the wet Quincy Stadium turf, the game was as even as the score indicates. In fact, the losing Quincy Hawks outshot SIU-E's Cougars 16-11 in the game. The Hawks had an even bigger edge in the corner kick department, 8-3. But still, Quincy found itself in an come-from-behind battle all day long.

The Cougars jumped out to a 2-0 lead that became 2-1 at halftime. SIU-E's Dan Malloy put the Cougars on top early with an unassisted goal at the 20:23 mark of the first half. Then teammate Dan O'Keefe made it 2-0 after taking an assist from Greg Fisher at the 31:13 mark.

Quincy cut the Cougars' lead in half at the 41:58 mark in the first half when Swedish import student Claes Sandstrom, off an assist from teammate Frank Buse, let go with a shot that beat Cougar goalkeeper Ed Gettemeier.

The Hawks had most of their territorial edge in the second half.

But even so, SIU-E managed to get on the board first in the second half. Bill Stallings took an assist from Mike Twelman to make it 3-1 at the 60:31 mark.

Then, late in the game, the tide began to turn on the Cougars. Another Swede, Tor Duner, got an assist from teammate Jack Hargas and brought the Hawks back to within one goal with a goal at the 71:36 mark.

Quincy finally managed to knot things up w/ the 84:49 mark when Rick Day (a Hazelwood Central grad) scored an unassisted goal to make it 3-3.

After a scoreless first overtime period, the Cougars finally regrouped and put the Hawks away.

The victory raises SIU-E's win-loss record to 9-2-1, while Quincy falls to 9-3-1. In goal, SIU-E's Gettemeier made 15 saves. Quincy's Todd had seven saves.

In other weekend college soccer action, Lewis and Clark Junior College defeated Lakeland (Ohio) 4-0 Saturday for the championship of the Lincoln Belt Tournament in Lincoln, Ill.; Washington University defeated Wabash 8-2; Avila defeated Harris Stowe 4-1; and Friday, Belleville Area College defeated Lakeland at home, 4-3.

Former Granite City South player Robbie Mann scored a goal for Lewis and Clark as it won its fourth straight Lincoln Belt Tournament championship. In addition, Dennis Beckman had two goals and Greg Spiess had one.

Washington's Chris and Avilla's victories were a bit overshadowed, with SIU-E's Joe Caranza Jr. and Avilla's coach Chris Caranza were not at the games because their father, longtime soccer coach and director of the C.Y.C. Soccer Program in St. Louis was killed Saturday morning in an automobile accident on Interstate 270.

South harriers finish second

ALTON — The Granite City South cross country team finished second here Saturday in the running of the annual Alton Invitational Meet. Belleville West managed to edge out the Warrior Harriers 81-86 in the close battle for first place. Quincy was third with 130 points, followed by Centralla with 141. Granite City North finished seventh with 163 points.

Other finishers were: Jacksonville fifth, Prep North sixth with 159 points, Belleville East with 186 points, Triad ninth, Alton tenth, Edwardsville 11th, Centralla's junior varsity eleventh, Edwardsville twelfth and Springfield Southeast thirteenth.

"Everything For Building Health"

What Renaissance Health Center Can Do For Whiplash

By DOCTOR TERRY A. RONDBERG
 Doctor of Chiropractic

Contrary to popular opinion the term whiplash is not a specific injury or disease itself. It is a type of lashing movement that causes a variety of injuries to the neck and upper spine.

Normally, the neck of a healthy person is very Dr. Ronberg flexible and can withstand considerable strain and movement without injury. However, any sudden or unexpected movement can overcome normal muscle control and cause damage.

Although auto accidents are considered the most common cause of whiplash injuries, they can be caused by any sudden unexpected movement such as a blow to the head, an uncontrolled fit of coughing or sneezing, or even attempting to recover your balance after slipping. The neck is the most flexible part of the spine because it has 48 joints, and over 100 muscles. Since the nerves leading from the brain to every part of the body must pass through the neck, a whiplash injury can damage the nerves and cause trouble in any area of the body.

Immediate symptoms of a whiplash injury may be pain, muscle spasm, stiffness, tenderness or restricted neck movement. Other symptoms may develop within a few hours of the injury: are headaches, blurred vision or excessive sweating. Many symptoms may not appear for months following an accident.

Renaissance is a new and exciting approach concerned with caring for and educating the whole person. Our health is a product of our physical, nutritional and emotional well-being. In the Center we believe building health prevents and cures disease and enriches life. "Building health is the conscious art of living well."

Don't cover up your symptoms with drugs. You now have a Center that promotes growth and development towards each individual's maximum health potential.

Refs should stay quiet

To The Sports Editor:
 Last Saturday evening I attended the Granite City South-Vianney soccer game and I saw something that disturbed me. It wasn't something that the players or fans did, it was something that one particular referee did. I've heard of referees doing these kind of things before, but I never really witnessed it before.

I was sitting near the Vianney cheering section when Vianney Striker Steve Maurer scored their first goal of the evening. But while Vianney was celebrating its goal, this blond haired, Missouri state 'commissioned referee' clinched his hands into a fist, trotted over to the Vianney cheering section and shouted to their fans "Beautiful Goal!"

Come on! Sure, it was a good goal, but the way I was brought up was that all the referee was supposed to do is referee the game. Has something changed that no one has told me about?

To me, referees and officials should not shout their joy to whomever they want to. I'm not really trying to cut this particular referee down. Besides that one particular episode, he did an admirable job. I believe that game officials, no matter how partial they may be, should try to keep their feelings inside themselves and not let the rest of the world know. That would seem to make for a more enjoyable and fair game, no matter what the outcome.

Sincerely,
 Jerry Harrington Jr.

"Following registration, players will be assigned to teams and leagues. Every boy and girl who signs up will be on a team and will play. Practice will begin Nov. 14, with league play to begin the first week of December," said Dave Fernite, executive director.

YBA, sponsored jointly by the YMCA and the NBA Players Association, is the first youth sports program open equally to boys and girls.

GRANITE CITY—The two drivers waited tensely for the crack of the gun, their hands taut on the back wheels of their cars.

This was the final race of the day. Both had survived the 10 previous heats. Whoever crossed the finish line first would be the champion of the first Granite City 300 soap box derby.

Tim Deckard was in the left lane, sitting deep in his red, low slung car. Gary Wirtz was in the right lane, his black car a replica of a dragster with its large back wheels and small front wheels.

Both drivers had lost once in the double elimination race - to each other. This was it. The gun cracked. The drivers started pushing their back wheels furiously to get momentum.

Once 20 yards down the east side of the new 19th Street overpass, the drivers would have to quit pushing and rely on the road's incline and the strong tailwind to force them the remaining 280 yards.

Deckard nosed out an early lead. It was too much for Wirtz to overcome. Deckard crossed the finish line the champion, a big smile on his face.

His car was rebuilt by his dad and himself in three or four days from a car originally made for the Boy Scout Klondike Derby. Deckard never raced the car in the Klondike Derby, however. Finishing third in a shiny orange car was Darren Dickey. Danny Oliver placed fourth in a red car with a dragon face painted on the front. Terry Perrin, who had mechanical difficulties throughout the competition, finished fifth.

All of the participants received trophies. The cars were also judged on their overall design. Dickey's car placed first, with Wirtz and Perrin finishing second and third. All three received gift certificates from Earl's Sporting Goods.

Ed Schuler, coordinator of the event, was disappointed with the low turnout of competitors. More than 40 people had taken out applications for the race.

Still, he would like to see the derby as an annual event and felt if the competitors were given more time to build their cars and if the derby was held in better weather, the participation level would be higher.

This year, the competitors had only six weeks to build their cars and the race was delayed from Saturday to Sunday because of the rainy weather. Sunday's weather was less than ideal, however, with cool temperatures and strong winds.

DARREN DICKEY, 10, practices Saturday for Sunday's Soap Box Derby held in conjunction with the Overfest in Granite City. Dickey is the son of Dale and Betty Dickey of Granite City.

Deckard wasn't sure if he would return to defend his championship next year. At 14, he thought he might be getting too old to quality for the derby. Besides, he admitted he had bigger dreams. The thoughts of receiving his driver's license and crushing down the 19th Street overpass in a real car had already driven through his head.

Steelers tie 2-2; Paz leads South

BELLEVILLE — David Paz's three penalty kick goals gave Granite City South a two-game sweep over Gateway East Conference opponents Thursday and Friday. Paz scored a penalty kick goal in the first quarter against Cahokia in the Warriors' 1-0 GEC victory and made good on two penalty kicks Friday in South's 2-0 win.

Granite City North tied Pattonville, Mo. 2-2 Friday in a game the Steelers dominated in the statistics. It was the fifth tie by North this season.

The rainy weather played havoc with both North's and South's schedules Saturday. The Steelers' GEC game against Cahokia was postponed until tonight (Monday) at 6 p.m. South's scheduled game at St. Louis University High Saturday night was postponed until 7:30 p.m. Thursday night because of water standing on the field.

In North's tie at Pattonville, Paul Barrington got the Steelers on top with a goal assisted by Bryan Levin at the 37:00 minute mark of the first half (the game was played in halves instead of quarters). Barrington's goal gave the Steelers a 1-0 lead at the halftime intermission. But back came Pattonville, which scored two unanswered goals midway through the second half to take a 2-1 lead.

Then North head coach Bob Kehoe made a switch in assignments - putting Steve Tritschuh center forward and moving Barrington to the left half. It worked. With ten minutes remaining in the game, Tritschuh fired one past the Pattonville goalie to tie the score. The assist on the play went to Steeler goalie Jeff Sharp, who had cleared the ball with a long kick. "I knew Tritschuh had that goal coming," said Kehoe. "And sure enough, he did."

Will the maneuver be used again by North? "Only under the severest situations," said Kehoe.

Pattonville had entered the game with a 3-9-1 record. The Steelers dominated the statistics, outshooting Pattonville 14-9 and taking an 8-3 edge in corner kicks. Sharp made six saves in goal and Pattonville's goalie made three. North was called for 14 fouls. Pattonville for 19.

In South's victory over Althoff, it was also a case of dominating the stats but the score not reflecting it. The Warriors' goalie Skipton outshot the Crusaders 23-8 and had an 8-0 edge in corner kicks. But it took Paz's penalty kicks at 10:06 and 19:26 of the first quarter for the eventual margin of victory. South goalie Joe LeMaster made five saves. Althoff's Skip Downen made 12. South committed 23 fouls to Althoff's 11.

Tennis stars at SIU-E

ST. LOUIS — The 1981 7-Up Fall Invitational will be held October 23-24 at the Oak Hill Racquet Club in Belleville, Ill. Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) hosts the annual tournament, which this year is sponsored by Seven-Up Bottling of St. Louis. Admission is free.

Eight of the top collegiate teams in the country are entered: Arkansas, Clemson, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois State, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and SIUE.

Arkansas, the fifth best team in the final national rankings last year, begins the 1981 campaign as the defending Southwest Conference champion and one of the pre-tournament favorites. Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion in 1981 and sixth in the final national poll, should also be a tournament force, while Michigan and Minnesota, co-champions of the Big Ten Conference last year, could pull off an upset. The host team, SIUE, enters the tournament on the wake of four consecutive NCAA Division II championships. The Cougars surprised last year's talented invitational field by finishing second to Clemson. The Wisconsin Badgers, who upset SIUE in a 5-4 dual meet victory last season, SIUE and Illinois State, each feature some of the best individual talent of the meet.

Besides the team competition, individual honors will be on the line as approximately 10 of the top 50 amateur players in the country will be on hand. SIUE's defending national champion Ken Flach and highly-rated Hugo Nunez will match forces with such nationally-ranked contenders as Mike Leach and Mark Mees of Michigan, Peter Doolan and Pat Serret of Arkansas, and Mark Dickson and Jean Desdunes of Clemson for top honors in the single competition.

The meet, scheduled to get underway at 10 a.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday, will pair up talent in flights, with the No. 1 singles players going head-to-head. The tournament will feature six singles players and three doubles teams from each squad. Awards will be presented to the top two teams and the top singles and doubles players in each flight.

Edwardsville's Tracy Deckard was in the end zone to intercept the pass. "I don't know what we did wrong on that play," Wyrostek said. "We have to look at the game films to find out exactly what went wrong."

Edwardsville coach Dick Ford took no chance in winning the game. He called on North to attempt a 27 yard field goal. Everything went as Ford expected and the Tigers came out victors.

"We weren't going to take a chance on losing the ball," Ford said. "I'd go with a field goal every time in that situation because if you do miss it, you're still tied and have to go into another overtime."

Wyrostek said, "It's no one person's fault. It's a team loss, and have to do some things better next week."

"We like to be on defense first in overtime because if we can hold them first, we can score and win. We had a chance to win, but our receiver just didn't hold onto the football. They did an awfully good job," Wyrostek said.

Steeler defensive back Tom Crawford recovered a fumble in the first quarter on the Tiger 34 yard line. Despite a steady rain and slick field conditions, the Steelers alternated running and passing plays to move to the four yard line. Luehmann passed to his right and to DePew for the touchdown with 5:56 to go in the period. DePew kicked the PAT.

From that point on, Edwardsville dominated the game offensively, gaining 60 more total yards than North, but the Steelers stopped the Tigers when it was necessary. The Tigers had the ball inside North's 40 yard line four times prior to the touchdown but failed to take advantage of the situation.

The Steelers had their chances too. Late in the first period, Brad Watson intercepted a pass, and several plays later, Luehmann passed to DePew for an apparent touchdown, but a penalty nullified the touchdown. On the next play, Luehmann threw an interception. "Penalties took away a touchdown and stopped a big drive for us," Wyrostek said. "But penalties hurt both teams."

North was called six times for 73 yards, and the Tigers were penalized nine times for 85 yards. Penalties or mistakes kept us from scoring." Ford said. "We ran a lot to wear them out because North uses so many two-way players."

yards, including a 22 yard loss because of a bad snap which Zarr tried to recover.

Meanwhile, the Knights had such a successful running game that they tried only five passes all game. Triad gained 219 yards rushing, including 98 by Stroff, 59 by Brown, and 47 by McCabe.

Zarr, one of the top passers according to completion percentages, was intercepted three times by the Knights. Prior to Saturday, Zarr had not been intercepted in four games.

"We just got the ball beat out of us," Vanderhaar said. "The fumbles and interceptions hurt us, but I think the conditions hurt our running game because we rely more on speed."

"This is the second game we had a let down when we should have played much better," Vanderhaar said. "When you look at it, we had missed assignments and we weren't ready to cover their passes. We are still in the (Quad-County) race if we can cut down on those mistakes."

Cange said, "Madison is a much improved ball club than last year. We were just able to capitalize on the breaks, and our mistakes didn't hurt us that bad."

"We haven't lost by more than a touchdown. We could be 5-1, 4-2 or 6-0 as easily as we are 3-3," Cange said.

Madison, 1-4 for the season, travels to Dupu Friday for a Quad-County conference game. Triad hosts Highland Friday.

Governor restructures Ill. employment council

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that he is restructuring the Illinois Employment and Training Council (IETC), reducing its membership to a maximum of 40 and outlining his expectations for the Council for the next year.

"Efforts at the federal, state and local levels have produced substantial progress toward addressing the problems of the unemployed and the underemployed," Thompson said. "Restructuring of the IETC coupled with a shift in focus will be one more effort in our drive to create jobs for Illinois citizens who want them."

The governor, addressing an IETC meeting at the Mart Plaza Hotel in Chicago, said that he has issued an Executive Order limiting to 40 the number of citizens who can be named to the council, cutting in half the number of people on the IETC.

"It is crucial that the Council understand its role in advising and assisting the governor in meeting its goal: creating jobs. We can never be satisfied until every single person who wants a job has one."

Thompson said he has ordered a new replacement process for council members, allowing greater citizen participation. The order the governor issued also appoints the members on the IETC to specific terms. Previously council members served indefinitely.

Under state law, the IETC is mandated to review and make recommendations on the operations of programs run by job training program sponsors and report to the Governor. The council is also required to identify the employment and training needs of Illinois, as well as review the availability, responsiveness and adequacy of state services.

"A dedicated advisory council, one in which public servants as well as Illinois citizens can work toward the efficient operation of employment and training services, is an invaluable asset to the state. The changes that I have made are another step in the right direction."

Halloween candy can choke tots

(Illinois Lung Association) Halloween brings ghosts, goblins and, sometimes, real danger.

One danger for children is the risk of choking on holiday treats such as candy corn, hard candy, and peanuts. At Halloween, children go door-to-door "begging." Parents should insist that youngsters bring the goodies home for inspection.

For the youngest—two, three or even four years old—some of the candy can be divided or mashed before eating.

The chewing and swallowing muscles of young children may not be sufficiently developed to cope with certain treats. Choking can result.

Halloween goodies also may "go down the wrong way" and lodge in the lung instead of the stomach. This is called aspiration.

A "foreign object" of any kind in the lung can cause lifelong problems. At times, surgery for removal is required.

The best warning is: Be sure children are old enough to chew and swallow correctly before trusting them with small, hard bits of food.

Parents should always be on guard against "small objects" getting into the hands of children—particularly those young enough to want to put everything into their mouths. Choking, blocked air passages, and even aspiration into the lung can result.

Moreover, guard against such items as eyes and buttons that might come loose from dolls, or wheels from toy cars.

Set a good example. Don't put anything but food into your own mouth. Keep the coffee table clear of small objects a child might reach for. And ask your long association for the leaflet: "Keep Your Child From Choking."

Beth Gollinger in 1981 McKendree homecoming

Homecoming 1981 will be celebrated on the McKendree College campus at Lebanon this week.

"Time," the theme, will be highlighted by a parade, soccer contest and coronation dinner dance Saturday.

Today is dress-up day. A buffet luncheon will be served to students and a formal tea will be held at 4 p.m. in Upper Deneen Center.

Nerd-peppy Day is tomorrow. Olympic-Sport Day is scheduled for Wednesday, with students encouraged to dress in their favorite sports gear. A fun olympics will be held featuring an egg toss and a mattress race.

Generation Day will be Thursday. Students are to dress as characters from their favorite time period, and a professional fast-gun artist will demonstrate his talents at 11:45 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. in Deneen Center.

Friday is Spirit Day and everyone is to wear purple and white to show their school spirit. A contest will be held at Locust Hills Country Club beginning at 9 p.m.

A parade is scheduled for Saturday morning. Set to start from the campus at 11, it will feature floats, bands and marching units.

At 2 p.m., the McKendree College club soccer team will play on Hynes Field. Half-time will feature introduction of the 1981 homecoming court.

The dinner dance will begin with a social hour at 8 at Buckley's Garden Restaurant in Fairview Heights. Dinner will be served, and coronation of the queen is scheduled for 10:30 p.m.

Three seniors vying for the title are Verna Jones, Gwen Frederking and Pattie Huber.

Attendants in the homecoming court will include Beth Gollinger, Robin Lee and Melody Edwards. Representing the junior class is Miss Gollinger, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ellebracht Jr. of Granite City.

A psychology major, she is Student Government secretary, an active member of Alpha Omega sorority and participates in intramural sports. She is a graduate of Granite City High School South.

The public is invited to attend all of the McKendree homecoming activities free of charge, with the exception of the coronation dinner, for which the cost is $20 per couple.

TRUCK BURGLARY

An AM-FM stereo and eight-track tape player was removed from the mounting in a pickup truck last week, it was reported by the owner Cynthia Clement, 2802 Myrtle Ave. She said the truck was parked in the driveway of her home and entry was apparently gained by forcing the lock on the passenger's side of the vehicle.

TV courses popular here

Belleville Area College's television courses are having a big debut. More than 200 students are enrolled in the courses — 155 in data processing alone.

General psychology also has proved popular with 75 students participating.

Japanese history, with 36 students, has more than doubled the enrollment ever experienced by the comparable on-campus course.

Lloyd Gentry, coordinator for the program, attributed the telecourses' success to the fact they give students a chance to earn college credit in the comfort and convenience of their homes. They don't have to pay for travel or babysitting.

Mita Heberer, BAC psychology instructor, said they give those who have never attended college a chance to see if it is for them.

"Many have said they were simply afraid to come to campus," Miss Heberer said. "This is a way for them to see if they can do college courses."

"They like the idea of coming to campus for exams on weekends when there are not going to be so many students here."

Other students have found the TV courses a good way to finish required coursework when on-campus sections were filled.

Classes tuning in to the courses range in age from 70 to 17, with the median age being 33.

Twenty-nine men are taking the courses and 145 women, a partial tally shows.

Classes in the classes, 152 have attended BAC before, and 63 have not. One hundred seventeen are only taking courses through television.

Close to 30 students are taking two of the courses and one individual is enrolled in all three.

They are watching throughout the BAC district. The largest number, 55, reside in Belleville.

Law enforcement panel to meet here

The board of directors of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission will hold a regular monthly meeting Wednesday, Oct. 21, at Charlie's Restaurant in Granite City. The meeting is scheduled to start at 5:30 p.m. All of the board of directors meetings are open to the public.

This meeting will be accessible to handicapped individuals, in compliance with Executive Order 5 and state and federal laws, upon notification of anticipated attendance.

Handicapped persons planning to attend are needed special accommodations are to contact, either by telephone or by letter, the SILEC office at 107 E. B St., P.O. Box 332, Belleville 62222, or 277-1550, to notify SILEC of their attendance.

Correspondence to be read includes letters from Thurl C. Jones, director of Madison County Probation and Court Services, and Capt. Glenn H. Huffman, commander, State Police District 11.

TALK BY REPORTER
Peter Lance, a correspondent for ABC's 20/20 TV newsmagazine, will discuss methods of investigative reporting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 21, in the Belleville Area College theater at the main campus. He has been nominated for a national Emmy for his 20/20 report on abuse of mental patients in Chicago.

Granite City has 17 enrolled and Cahokia, Collinsville and O'Fallon have 14 each. Twelve residents of Scott Air Force Base are enrolled, 11 from Fairview Heights and 10 from Sparta.

Other students include eight from Caseyville, seven from Highland and six each from Chester and Waterloo. The remainder are spread throughout the BAC area.

The largest number of students, 85, is in the 30-39 age range, followed closely by 72 students in their 20s.

Twenty teenagers are enrolled, 32 students are in their 40s, 14 are in their 50s, five are in their 60s and one is 70.

The popularity of the courses has prompted the college to schedule four for the spring 1982 semester.

The home gardener and "America: the second century" have been added to data processing and general psychology.

The courses are offered on Channels 8 or 9 during early morning hours for the convenience of those who work.

Videotapes are available in the library at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville, for those who are not early risers or who want to view a missed tape or review one.

The telecourses were introduced to expand BAC's service to the community.

They include on-campus testing and tours, use of student study guides and textbooks, and phone, personal and mail contact with BAC experts in each field.

The programs are produced by national companies and community colleges elsewhere in the country. They are comparable to courses taught on campus.

For information, Quad-Cityans may call 235-2700, extension 200.

Registration for the next semester will begin Nov. 9.

Q. I will change jobs within the next month and will receive a lump-sum payment from a tax-deferred savings plan administered by my present employer. Is it possible to shelter this money from taxes until retirement?

A. Yes. Money which you have put into the plan is not taxable. To avoid taxes on your employer's contributions, you will have to reinvest or "roll over" the money in another tax-sheltered investment, like an IRA or KEOGH plan, if you are eligible. This reinvestment must be done within 60 days. Check with your employer immediately to find out what type of retirement plan, if any, is available to you through his company. SIUE enrollment growing Gains in nearly every category of enrollment at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have resulted in an overall increase of nearly four percent in the number of students attending the university this fall.

Eugene Magac, director of the Office of Admission and Records, reports an on-campus enrollment of 10,204, compared with last year's total of 9,822. The figure includes the Alton and East St. Louis centers and resident centers at Greenville, Litchfield and Scott Air Force Base.

In addition, the university expects to have nearly 1,000 enrolled in approved off-campus courses, pushing total enrollment over the 11,000 mark. That total includes off-campus nursing programs located at Marion and Mt. Vernon and students enrolled at Military Airlift Command bases across the nation.

Additionally, 1,750 enroll annually in non-credit continuing education courses offered by the university.

New transfer students rose from 761 to 863, a gain of 13.4 percent, while continuing students increased from 6,538 to 6,829, up 4.45 percent. The admissions director said both increases reflect efforts by SIUE in recruiting and retention.

Magac noted a two percent gain this year in the extent of the previous year's freshman class returning.

Every class of students has increases over last fall, with the largest gain in the sophomore class, where there are 1,913 students now compared to 1,791 last year.

The headcounts by schools also indicate gains or stable enrollments in every category. The School of Business has the largest increase — from 1,145 to 1,265 this year.

Nearly 300 foreign students are enrolled, up 16 percent over 1980.

Magac said there also is a significant increase in the number of men enrolled on campus. The current total of 5,025 compares with 4,711 last fall. But women still hold the edge — 5,179 this year, a gain of 58 over a year ago.

Dr. James R. Buck, director of development and public affairs, said that under the leadership of the university's new vice president and provost, Dr. Barbara Teters, there have been improvements in academic advising, increasing the awareness of educational programs.

Night courses and services have been expanded, and SIUE is moving toward additional programs on weekends, Dr. Buck said.

The university now has a full complement of presidential scholars — 80 — and enrollment at the School of Dental Medicine has increased to a total of 211 because the school has expanded from a three-year to a four-year program. There are four classes of 52 or 53 students each.

SIUE is contemplating other changes in both the scope and quality of its educational programs and its research and public service activities. Changes being considered include expanded course offerings at the East St. Louis Center and improvements in the academic calendar.

Also being developed are computerized procedures to streamline registration activities.

"We are entering Phase II of our retention program," Dr. Buck said. "President Earl Lazerson has challenged the university to continue to direct emphasis toward a scholastic achievement — providing a

Art Guild workshop

The Granite City Art Guild will offer a water color painting workshop on Saturday, Nov. 7, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., in the Fellowship Room at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

Prospective artists and anyone interested in art are invited to attend the event.

which also includes a buffet luncheon, served by members of the Christian Women's Fellowship.

Eva Meadows, Art Guild president, today announced James Godwin Scott of St. Louis, widely known as the "river painter," will be the guest artist-instructor.

Scott will demonstrate the technique of painting with water colors between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon, Nov. 7, completing a total painting while he lectures.

"It will be an exciting and very entertaining program," Mrs. Meadows said.

The buffet luncheon will be served at noon and the workshop will resume at 1 p.m., with participants creating their own water color painting under Scott's direction.

A critique at 4:30 p.m. will conclude the program.

Those wishing to take part may register or obtain further information by calling 876-8906. Deadline for registration is Nov. 4, Mrs. Meadows advised.

Cost of the entire workshop is $20, or $3 per person for the demonstration segment. A charge of $4 will be made for the luncheon.

Ample parking space is available at the rear of the church building, Mrs. Meadows said.

Impact here from student aid cuts

Proposed cuts in federally-financed student aid programs could cost students at Southern Illinois University as much as $1.5 million, and might force many to drop out of school, the university's chief administrator told a House subcommittee Thursday in Washington, D.C.

Testifying before a hearing of the U.S. House Subcommittee on Post-Secondary Education, SIU Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw said federal administration proposals to scale back aid to students and higher education institutions could eliminate about 2,500 federally-funded grants, loans and other aid to the 34,000 students attending classes at SIU's campuses at Edwardsville and Carbondale.

He said the high cost of borrowing money will make it difficult for students and their parents to make up the difference if the federal programs are cut.

"There is no question in my mind that the proposed reductions would reduce access, choice, duration and depth for a substantial number of students," Dr. Shaw said.

He noted that more than 81 percent of Illinois college students said in a recent survey that they would be unable to continue their education without some kind of financial aid.

"Nothing has happened to increase parents' ability to share an increasing portion of the bill," Dr. Shaw told the subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Congressman Paul Simon (D-Carbondale).

"Students find themselves in a similar situation."

"The continuing unstable economy also makes it more difficult for those students, who wish to work to help with college expenses, to get jobs."

Dr. Shaw said he is "delighted" to see that administration budget planners, have dropped plans to cut back federal work-study programs and will increase funding for the guaranteed student loan program this year.

"I understand, however, that the administration will recommend reductions next year," he said.

"I am not suggesting that higher education should somehow be omitted from those groups in society which will be asked to make sacrifices during a period of federal retrenchment."

"However, I believe that the cuts which have been proposed would require parents, students and institutions to shoulder more than their fair share of the load," he said.

Dr. Shaw thanked Cong. Simon, "on behalf of SIU and the educational community," for the opportunity to testify.

GC Halloween parade Oct. 31

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

It's that time of year when monsters, witches and hobgoblins are thinking about their seasonal trek around neighborhood haunts and preparations are being made for their appearance in the traditional "Halloween Parade" through downtown Granite City.

This year's parade will take place at 7 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 31, under the sponsorship of the Granite City Moose Lodge 272. Members of the Moose have provided a parade for young and adult participants for many years. Several hundred costumed revelers take part in the annual event.

Paraders are asked to assemble by 6:30 p.m. Oct. 31 in front of the city hall on Niedringhaus Avenue, where participants will be tagged with a number to permit judges to easily identify winning entries, according to Dale Dull, Moose civic affairs chairman and parade marshal.

Masqueraders will be eligible for first, second and third place awards in three categories — funniest costume, scariest costume and most original costume. Consolation prizes also will be awarded, Dull said.

Serving as judges this year will be City Treasurer Nick Petrillo, Bob Thomas and Dave Farnsworth. The parade route will take the marchers along Niedringhaus Avenue to State Street, south on State to 19th Street, west on 19th to Niedringhaus and Cleveland Boulevard, returning to the city hall for presentation of prizes.

In the event of inclement weather, the parade will gather beneath the canopied area on the State Street side of the First Granite City National Bank. The covered area will be used only if rain prohibits the parade from being staged. Parents of youthful trick-or-treaters should make certain their youngsters can be seen while Halloweening and walking to the parade site. Many Halloween costumes are made of dark material, which increases the chances of small tricksters not being seen by motorists as they cross streets at night.

Parents can better insure their children's safety by making costumes clearly visible, adding white or yellow stripes, polka dots or pieces of reflective tape to the outfits.

A flashlight carried by the child helps him to be spotted more easily and youngsters should be instructed to remove their masks while crossing the street so their vision will not be obstructed.

Walter Anders is serving as co-chairman of the 1981 Moose parade.

3 hurt in Edwardsville Raad accident

Three persons were injured when the cars of Robin Pritchard, 25, of 619 Salver St., Venice, and Randy Steele, 24, of 1829 Fifth St., Madison, collided at 20th Street and Edwardsville Road at 4:40 a.m. Saturday. City ambulances and tow trucks were dispatched to the scene and both drivers and Elwood Freeman, 22, of 907 West Madison St., Madison, a passenger in Pritchard's auto, were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

Plans approved for the old junior high school

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

The Madison Board of Education Thursday night authorized the advertising for bids for the renovation of the old junior high school at Alton Avenue and Third Streets.

The board has been studying the schematic drawings prepared by Henry R. Gabriel and Associates, architects. The drawings show three overhead doors into the gymnasium for converting it into an automotive shop. Plans also call for a connecting ramp between the two buildings. Also indicated is the raising of the floors in the existing locker rooms to the elevation of the lobby and construction of an entrance ramp in the center of the original structure, thus remodeling of the boys' and girls' restrooms to permit access from the lower level.

Gabriel's estimate for the construction work is $75,000, which does not include any major revision of the plumbing, heating, air conditioning or electrical work.

The board also adopted a new policy for the advanced grade placement of a student using the following guidelines: The child's teacher and principal of the building initiate and make recommendations in writing to the central administration. A preliminary discussion is then to be held with the child's parents advising of them what the school authorities would like to do concerning the child.

If the parents approve, the school psychologist will test, evaluate and recommend in writing for or against the advancement. That recommendation would be sent to the central administration.

The parents would then be advised and, if they accept a recommendation for the child to advance, the parents could then give written approval.

After the above procedures are followed, the school board members would study the recommendations and either approve or disapprove of the advanced grade placement.

The action of advanced placement will begin no earlier than the end of the first six weeks of school.

It was explained to the board by Superintendent John Palchiff that this does not happen very often, but there are cases, particularly in the early kindergarten year, that do happen.

A discussion was held on the cages where personal items and athletic equipment are kept which allegedly are not being locked or watched properly.

"The staff has been told specifically before about this keeping the cages locked. I want this thievery stopped before it gets out of hand. Mr. Palchiff, the staff and administration at the high school better be made aware of it very clearly," Board President Sam Dymas said.

After a discussion on new cheerleader uniforms at the high school and Pom-Pom uniforms, a committee of three board members, Donald Garrett, Mrs. Billie Bosworth and Dymas, was formed to investigate the need and cost of the uniforms.

The board approved payment of $1,392 for four

MHS students attending the Collinsville Area Vocation Center.

The issue of the underpass on McCabridge Avenue near the Louis Baer School then was discussed. It was noted that the children are not using the underpass and there was a question raised on the crossing supervisor giving proper supervision.

The board authorized the placing of two supervisors at the underpass, one to be standing down inside the underpass and one to be standing on top, outside the underpass.

Board Member Paul Bargasel said, "We need to have someone in the subway to avoid older children from bothering the younger children." It was also noted that the supervisors at the underpass should be very visible to the children and not sitting inside their automobiles.

Steve Bolen the new director of Special Education Region I (Quad Cities area) was introduced to the board.

The board will hold only one meeting during November and it will be Monday, Nov. 9.

Craft festival and open house at Frohardt

Frohardt School PTA is announcing its annual open house and a special craft festival to be held on Tuesday from 7 to 8 p.m. at the school, 3000 Johnson Road.

All parents of Frohardt students are invited to meet with their child's teacher and to view some of their work. The parents of the students and the general public are invited to stop at the Frohardt gymnasium for the craft festival.

There will be a large variety of crafts made by the parents of Frohardt students. Christmas ornaments, along with a great many items suitable for Christmas gifts, will be offered for sale at the craft festival.

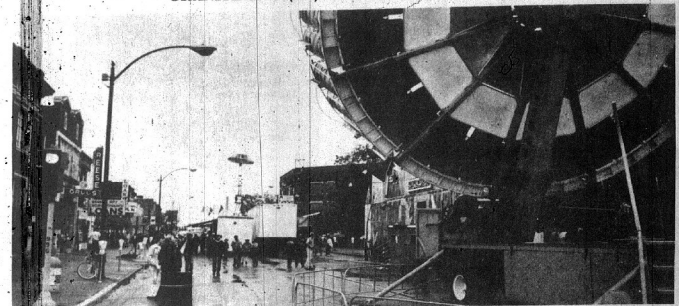

The public is invited to browse around the gym and start their Christmas shopping early.

Also in the gym will be a sweet shop and a pumpkin patch, with pumpkins being sold at a reasonable price.

At 8 p.m., there will be a drawing for one large stuffed animal and two smaller stuffed animals.

It is also being announced that the second grade class will perform at the Nov. 17th PTA meeting.

Study funding of county patrol work

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

It is expensive to operate a sheriff's department in a county the size of Madison County, and the possibility of levying a special tax to help pay for it may be discussed at Wednesday's 9:30 a.m. County Board session.

The staff patrols only in unincorporated areas, so in one sense it does not serve the entire quarter-million population. The tax would be billed to property owners outside city limits.

A factor in the overall cost of the department is the big new county jail in Edwardsville—a building that is ultra-modern but expensive to operate.

The prisoners there are mainly from city-substituted cases, according to Mayor Fred Bright, operations chief, and the general county funds that help run the sheriff's department are collected throughout the county.

When Sheriff Emil Toffant conferred Thursday with the Finance Committee of the Madison County Board, Fred Dalton of the committee proposed a policy tax. Toffant said care could be taken to assure that the proceeds were devoted to patrol work in non-city areas.

Dalton agreed to study a new approach to billing of the sheriff's offices for medical expenses incurred by prisoners while in custody, including the custody of city police. This billing conforms to state law, but added controls could curb costs, Toffant believes.

One possible economy involves, instead of sending prisoners to hospitals by ambulance, having them treated by the county jail physician.

Major Erwin Knezevich, chief of administration, said, "These costs are totally uncontrolled. We don't even know they exist until we get the bill."

The tentative bill budget for the December 1981-November 1982 fiscal year of $20,000 includes the hiring of a jailer and three clerks to help offset outbacks in the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act staff.

The new level of 36 jail employees will compare with 38 at the time the facility was opened in 1980.

Other sheriff department functions, including patrol and detective duties, are budgeted at $1,900,000. The overall county governmental budget is to be posted in early November and acted on Nov. 25.

The sheriff staff is seeking $187,500 in federal revenue sharing funds to replace 25 of the department's 73 autos with new cars. Another $71,000 is sought from the same source to buy equipment and cars for detectives to be transferred from jail duty.

No decision has been made by the committee regarding how much it will recommend for allocation to autos and equipment.

Another County Board topic Wednesday may be a proposed one-year extension of the life of the Madison County Mass Transit District.

Still another current issue is the difference in county and state legal opinions on the application of assessment multipliers to farm buildings. The Madison County Farm Bureau has called a meeting for 8 o'clock tonight in Edwardsville to consider using the county for not omitting the multipliers.

BATTERY ALLEGED

Troy E. Powell, 43, of 3213 Harvard Place, was arrested on a state battery complaint signed by his wife, Helen, at 7 p.m. Saturday. She alleged he beat her on two occasions Saturday, the first time being at 3:35 p.m. She sustained punches to her head, neck, shoulder and back and her dress was torn, officers said. Her 7-year-old son, Craig, also was punched in the face, Mrs. Powell reported.

A United Way, it's volunteers from your own community, and from every walk of life, who evaluate needs, review each agency's qualifications, and measure their performance. It's your friends, and your neighbors, who give their time to make the tough decisions of where the money goes. Using local volunteers may not be the easiest way to administer United Way funds, but it is the best way we know to make sure the money raised by your local United Way goes to the people in your community who need it most.

Thanks to you, it works for all of us.

A balanced approach to health

An alternative to a life of medication, doctors, and surgery to relieve pain, and alcohol, cigarettes and pills to reduce stress is being offered by an unusual new business in Granite City.

Renaissance Health Center, which has opened at the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, is offering a complete package to deal with the four basics of good health, exercise, diet and relieving psychological stress and spinal stress. The center combines a Nautilus exercise center (the type used by most professional sports teams) with a chiropractic clinic, natural health food store and psychological services under the slogan, "Everything for building health."

"Most people believe good health is just bad luck. That is not true. We are directly responsible for our actions and directly responsible for the benefits of our actions; good or bad," says Dr. Terry Rondberg, a chiropractor and co-owner of the establishment.

"People have lost their touch with natural balance. We have become a very sick society. We spend more on doctors, medication and health research than any nation in the world. People have to wake up and realize that health is the most precious commodity we have," he added.

"Trying to 'wake up' consciousness to the need for preventative health care is the aim of free public lectures the staff of Renaissance Health Center gives each Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the new center. We are trying to inspire people to get up and take care of themselves," Dr. Rondberg commented. The lectures are invited to use the Renaissance facilities free one time. "We believe we will sell a lot. We do not believe in high pressure sales of our services," Rondberg added.

"Many people start with Renaissance for only one purpose. Some want to build their bodies with the exercise equipment. Others only need chiropractic services, but in many cases, one service points out the need for another."

Ed Trober, a co-owner and expert fitness instructor, explained,

"The Nautilus equipment will inspire about a healthier diet and ends up in the health food store. Dr. Rondberg notes that many persons needing chiropractic services could benefit from exercising to strengthen the muscles which hold the spine and internal organs in proper alignment."

Others suffering from spinal problems find that their problems are directly related to stress and they can be helped by Dr. Thomas Lipsitz, clinical psychologist. Dr. Lipsitz explains, "I can help people relax and help them cope with anger and stress. We try to cure the mind and body and learn to relax."

"A lot of people deal with stress with liquor and pills or they keep it inside. None of these is the answer. We stress personal growth and teach how to develop self-confidence to round out the whole picture of health care. I am basically a stress manager," he concluded.

The overlapping of the various health fields, physical and mental, can become habit-forming, Trober warns. "Most of us now are vegetarians, but we don't push that," he added.

The co-owners believe strongly that "the only cure or prevention for any disease is building health. The Chinese have believed in that for years." They contend that all diseases, including cancer, are avoidable if the body is in proper condition and free of excess stress.

"We have found out that stress is the cause of all disease. If we relieve stress, then we have covered all the bases. Rather than waiting until people are ill to try to cure them, we try to improve the state of their well-being. We analyze their nutritional, emotional and physical condition and look for stress in all three areas. Then we relieve the stress. That is our business," Dr. Rondberg explains.

"Elsewhere, they treat the symptoms of illness and that doesn't make a person healthier if it has not corrected the cause. Why are people constantly swallowing pills and medication to make them feel better? They are deceiving themselves," he contended.

He calls Renaissance Health Center "the most exciting and unique health care facility in the world. We have combined the three best health care facilities under one roof."

The local facility is a pilot and success here would lead to more centers throughout the country, he noted.

The staff brags highly of the two Nautilus exercise rooms in the building, one for men and one for women. According to Danny Cox, co-owner and expert fitness instructor, "The equipment is the same that all professional football and baseball teams use. It tones the body, but gives flexibility at the same time."

"More importantly, it builds a stronger cardiovascular system. After all, the heart is a muscle and exercise can make it stronger and reduce the risk of heart attacks," he explained.

"The Nautilus equipment works you while it flexes all your muscles and it will not cause the muscles to interfere with activities such as golf or tennis. Actually, skills at such sports and activities should improve," he contends.

All of the staff members who work with the Nautilus equipment have been fully trained by the manufacturer and the leaders of the program have attended sports medicine clinics with the Bengals in Cincinnati. Others have attended seminars on sports medicine in Florida.

Since the Nautilus equipment has been proven beneficial to athletes, Renaissance is working with local coaches and schools to try and make arrangements so that high school athletes here can benefit from having the equipment in Granite City.

"We hope to help boost the sports program in Granite City. We have spent a lot of money for what we believe is the best equipment you can buy and we want the athletes to use it."

The co-owners and Leonard Revelle, manager, are hopeful that people will use the Renaissance facilities, not only for the success of the business, but also for a healthier Quad-City area.

Jennison-Wright is purchased

The Jennison-Wright Corporation of Toledo has just been acquired by two Cleveland investors for an undisclosed amount of cash. Jennison-Wright, founded in 1910, manufactures and sells railroad ties, manufactures, sells and installs industrial and commercial wood flooring, and manufactures pavement sealer.

The company, which has 300 employees, operates a plant on a 28-acre site in Toledo, and has production facilities in Granite City and in South Windsor, Ct.

The new owners, Cleveland businessman Leonard Krieger and attorney Donald Insel, will serve the company as chief executive officer and executive vice-president, respectively.

Existing management of the company, headed by Carleton G. Carver, president, will remain and no management changes are contemplated.

Corporate offices will be established at 25550 Chagrin Boulevard, Beachwood, Ohio.

The company's products are marketed nationally by its own sales force. It is one of the largest firms involved in the production and installation of wood block flooring for industrial and commercial locations.

Foreign service exam at SIUE

Careers are available through the U.S. Foreign Service that can "give almost anyone a chance to do something challenging."

In December, a test will be given at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to place persons who are interested in becoming foreign service officers. To be admitted for the exam, applications must be filed before Friday, Oct. 23. Application forms are available from David Van Horn, SIUE's director of placement services, at 618-692-2800.

The work of foreign service officers requires the use of various talents and skills. The basic job involves representing foreign policy with specific opportunities in reporting and negotiating political, economic, commercial and administrative affairs.

The current starting salary for most foreign service jobs are in the $12,000 to $18,000 range.

Although no specific educational background is required for the test, a broad knowledge of U.S. foreign and domestic affairs, history, government and culture is necessary to be successful in the foreign service, Van Horn said.

Book on farm estate planning

A new publication entitled "Agricultural Estate Planning After the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981" is available free upon request from the Madison County Extension office of the University of Illinois.

A spokesman says, "The planning of agricultural estates continues to be an important responsibility of every farm family."

"An important part of this planning process is identification of the particular family's estate planning goals and examination of the tax effects of various estate planning alternatives."

The publication briefly sketches typical estate planning goals of farm families and provides a brief summary of estate and gift tax provisions of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981.

The revised structure of federal estate and gift tax laws is described in the publication. It also lists several planning strategies that might be used.

State trooper canine program

Illinois State Police are making plans to implement a concentrated training course for all new canine patrol program. This training is scheduled to begin Oct. 26. The new K-9 patrol program will perform numerous duties that are expected to do much to reinforce existing law enforcement measures.

A spokesman said trained dogs can assist in giving law enforcement a non-lethal means of apprehending criminal offenders, searching buildings, tracking lost children or other persons who for humanitarian reasons must be located by law enforcement, detecting the presence of narcotics and explosives, and assisting officers in many other ways. State police will utilize male German shepherd dogs in the program.

Any interested citizen wishing to donate a dog between one and two years old, that can qualify to become a member of the Illinois State Police canine unit, may call 217-782-7478 collect.

ILL. TRADE MISSION TO SOUTH AMERICA

Illinois will form a trade mission to four South American nations in an effort to promote the export of Illinois-made electric power generation, transmission and distribution equipment.

The mission, March 15-26, 1982, is being organized by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs and will visit Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay and Uruguay. DCCA staff and U.S. embassies in each country will arrange appointments for the Illinois delegation with potential buyers, distributors and representatives. The state commerce agency has an office in Sao Paulo, Brazil.
